POLITICS.

will faithfully and earnestly support the principles of the Republican party in the country the people and will move in the future. It has little respect for the situation, controlling the Democratic for the last forty years, and was once controlling it now. It believes that, consequently oppose and prevent the more fostered and organized within the party, the Republican party must be in highest purpose and keep abreast of the progress and reforming constitution. It will discuss all political economy and encourage with full liberty on the part of the people, the maintenance of politicians and the merits of official
